Service Clubs To Sponsor Annual Jamboree, Aug. 6th

The Didsbury Lions and Kinsmen Clubs have joined forces to produce the annual sports day and Jamboree that has been a mid-summer drawing attraction for many years past.

This time around the show has been strengthened by the addition of the Kinsmen Club as one of the clubs that pay their 25 cents and pass through the portals at the Memorial Grounds on August 6th.

A giant parade will start the show on the road, following which baseball games, chuckwagon races, a firemen's display, horseshoe tournament, stake races, greased pig, and climbing pole will hold the spotlight.

There will be ponies for the kiddies, children's races and the prizes for the parade events are not to be sneezed at.

Following a bingo game in the arena a dance will be held at Melvin Hall.

The East Didsbury 4 H Beef Club was the winner of the interclub trophy at the 1957 Beef Trophy year. Other clubs competing for this proficiency award were West Didsbury, Cremona, Olds and Cartstons. Jim Good and Sandra Brander received highest marks for beef feeding records.

At the recent girls' club A.W.I. convention held at the Olds School of Agriculture, the Bancroft Buttercup Canners won first place in the indoor canning competition and Lone Pine Orioles were second. Miss Sandra Brander, of the latter club, was awarded the Calgary Power Trophy for public speaking; second was Miss Pat Hosking of the Bancroft Buttercup. Miss Hosking also won the senior short story competition. A total of 110 delegations from all parts of Alberta were in attendance.

CONVENOR PAYS VISIT TO WESTCOTT S.E. W.I.

Mrs. H. Richardson, constituency convenor paid a courtesy visit to the Westcott Senior W.I. last Tuesday. She brought the members up to date on W.I. matters and also answered many questions. Mrs. Ed Klinek was hostess.

Instead of sending a delegate to Farm Women's Week at Olds, the members are planning to assemble as a group for one day, possibly on Thursday.

"Agriculture" was the topic taken by Mrs. C. Binehart, who gave information on the making of a new lawn. Roll call was "a hot weather."

Best wishes for a speedy recovery were sent to the president, Mrs. H. Goetzen, who was unable to attend.

Golf Competitions Draw To A Close

The men's monthly medal play, which took place on Sunday, resulted as follows: Low scratch, J. Miller; 70; low net, C. Sorenson; 76; A. Allen, hidden hole.

The draw for the third draw of the Wildfire competition to be played by August 11th is as follows:

A. Allen vs. C. Sorenson or J. Miller.

G. Wilkins vs. S. Modre.

G. Moon vs. J. McFarquhar.

L. Slipp vs. I. H. Miller.

There are still a few second round games in the Scotch foursomes to be played, and these must be played off by August 4th.

The ladies had a fine day of golfing last Thursday in the president's annual open competition. The president's side lost this round.

This week the competition is drive, pitch and putt and the following Thursday it will be low score, in three flights, playing no winter rules.

Later a few drives were held at their home, which brought together their mothers and their relatives and friends from Rugby, Clive, Vulcan, Calgary, Didsbury, and other points.

Gifts of flowers, luggage, chinaware and miscellaneous items were gratefully received by the honored couple.

Speeches were made by Messrs. Tom Morris, Allan Upson, Dr. E. G. Emmerson McInnes, Roy McNaughton and Alfred Cowitz.

Later the couple proceeded to the Royal hall where Mr. Bert Smith very ably guided a variety program and also presented the couple with a purse of money on behalf of their many friends.

Mrs. Hosgood, with their family were then seated at a beautifully decorated table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. A lovely banquet followed, served by district ladies.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hosgood have taken active part in many community projects and these were acknowledged by the guest speakers.

BASEBALL CLUB NEEDS A FEW WINNS

The local entry in the Rockwood baseball League fell into the doldrums these past few weeks with a number of players away on holiday. However, playing in a double-header on Sunday they were able to break even with Carstairs.

The afternoon game, played in Carstairs, ended up 5 to 4 in favor of the locals, but they lost the evening game 10-7 score on the local diamond.

Didsbury still has two games to play and these games, the dates of which have not been set, must be played before July 28th, playoffs to follow immediately.

Hail Project Okay --- But No Hail

Scientists working on a long-term research project in central Alberta said this week in Edmonton that something is lacking mainly hail.

The project began in 1956 in the area around Penhold, one of the worst hail districts in North America. However, officials said there have been few major hail storms there yet this year.

In previous seasons the researchers have been busy taking motion pictures of clouds forming, studying clouds with radar, and experimenting in seeding clouds with silver iodide. This year, radar equipment at RCAF station Penhold has been used little in the project.

The research is being carried out jointly by the Alberta Research Council, the National Research Council, the Federal Transport Department, the Alberta Agriculture Department, the stormy weather research group at McGill University, and the RCAF training command.

So far this season Alberta has been fortunate. Mr. Elder said only 99 claims for hail damage have been received compared to 436 at the same time last year. He added that the picture can change overnight and noted that in 1953, 11,190 claims were received in two days.

Local Girl Dies In U.S.

Miss Marlene Sautter, aged 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sautter, who farm east of Didsbury, died suddenly in a Spokane, Wash. hospital on Monday, July 21st. The family were vacationing in the U.S. at the time.

Marlene is reported to have died as the result of a brain tumor. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

YOUNG GOLFER SCORES AN EAGLE

Kent Reiber of Vancouver, visiting his Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reiber, seems to be one of the up-and-coming golfers. Playing with Clint, and another Uncle, Dr. Harold Reiber of California, he used only two shots to sink his ball at the par 4, 334 yard 5th hole at the local course.

Has anyone else within our hearing able to match this score?

The unfortunate part is that to date the $500 prize for an "eagle" has not come into effect on the local nine.

SPRINGSIDE NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

An enjoyable time was had on Saturday evening when a number of neighbors and friends gathered at Springside school to honor Mr. Ed Rodney and his bride-to-be.

After a few laugh-provoking contests, the guests opened their many gifts, assisted by Rita and Judy Rodney. They thanked all those who were responsible for the wonderful evening and extended them an invitation to make a visit when they take up residence in the new home.

Miss Marion Kershaw spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wriggleworth.

Mr. Frank Collings of Calgary spent Monday night with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collings and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wriggleworth and Marion Kershaw spent last Wednesday in Calgary. Albert, Barbara and Gene Hall accompanied them home to spend a part of their holiday on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Taylor and family and Miss Elizabeth Collings called at the Bill Collings home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Chamberlain and family spent the weekend in Banff.

The publication of a report made in Saskatchewan in 1957 emphasizes how important good, sound, summerfallow practices are in the production of grain crops in the Prairie Provinces. Last year, 77 per cent of the Saskatchewan wheat crop, 20 per cent of the barley crop and 15 per cent of the banked crop were sown on summerfallow. Here are the yield results: Wheat on summerfallow yielded 17.9 bushels per acre compared with only 9 bushels on stubble. On Oct. 1, 1957, wheat averaged 35 bushels per acre compared with 21 bushels for stubble. The comparative yield figures for barley were: on summerfallow — 28 bushels per acre; on second crop land — 16 bushels per acre. The report, originally made by Mr. A. W. Williamson of the Swift Current Experimental Station, summerfallowing is a costly item in grain farming. Furthermore, unless every effort is made to preserve as much of the available trash as possible, it can be a hazardous farm practice. Maintaining an effective trash cover on summerfallow land serves two important purposes: (1) it reduces the danger of soil erosion by wind and water; and (2) it increases the ability of the soil to absorb and retain moisture.

It is impossible in this short article to describe in detail the many aspects of a good summerfallow program. However, the main object in all tillage operations that summerfallow is to turn the soil as near the surface as possible, so much trash as possible. This means the proper use of the right tillage implement at the right time. Depth of tillage is important. Shallow tillage at a depth of only 3 to 4 inches does not only conserve more trash cover, but favors maximum moisture storage in the soil. Watch your trash cover closely and select the implements that will do the best job of anchoring the trash or trash cover.

There will be about 24,805,000 acres under summerfallow in the Prairie Provinces in 1958. Both the size and quality of the grain crop that will be harvested in 1958 (Canada's first year to be largely dominated by the high-gain attention farms) give to their 1958 summerfallow operations. A good job of summerfallowing this summer will pay high dividends in 1959.

This is "Farm Safety Week." We don't make a habit of getting too enthused about these special weeks, especially when they're dedicated to some big unit that cuts the price of an article a few cents and then goes on to tell you how you can't live without the prize package. Farm Safety Week is not that kind of a deal. All of the sources that shoot out information on precautions that should be observed, at all times, are for your benefit. The man behind the pen wants you to be present at the next picnic, the next birthday, the next Christmas tree. "Twouldn't be much of a show if you weren't there. So Far — So Good . . .

That's just the way it looks insofar as our new roads are concerned. One small comment we might make is that there have been some who regard the black top as a speedway. This could be an expensive pastime if the law were to move in. We hear the magistrate is going to pull on his heavy gloves when anyone appears before him charged with driving offences within the town limits.

Safety With Electricity
 Electricity can be dangerous if handled improperly or carelessly. Complete control of this force, at all times, is the way to insure safety — keeping in mind that it is not the electricity which may cause an accident, but rather the way in which it is used. So here are a few electrical safety rules to follow:

- When renewing fuses, always stand on a dry board or other insulating material. Pull the switch FIRST and, if possible, replace the fuses during daylight.
- Replace fuses with fuses — not with copper. This latter practice might damage equipment and possibly cause a fire.
- Use correctly-rated fuses for the wiring — keep a supply of them on hand.
- When touching a light, appliance or extension cord be sure you are not standing in water, or on damp ground.
- Protect electric cords from fraying or breaking by taping them where necessary. Frayed cords should be replaced.
- Install wiring away from water pipes — heat and moisture will break down insulation.
- Use permanent wiring instead of extension cords — cords hanging on nails or hooks are fire hazards.
- If you get a shock from wiring or equipment, have them checked.
- Remove a plug cap from an outlet by the plug, not by jerking the cord.
- Tape bare wires and ends of wires not connected. Consider fallen or exposed wires "dead" until definitely known to be "dead."
- When leaving the farm for an extended period, be sure and remove perishables from refrigerators before pulling the main switch.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC TICKET SYSTEM FOR ALBERTA

Effective the first of this month, a uniform method of issuing traffic tickets will become operative in Alberta. This was provided for under a bill to amend the Summary Convictions Act, which was passed at the spring session of the Alberta legislature.

The new system deals only with traffic violations under the Summary Convictions Act. It does not apply to parking violations.

A list of violations is contained on the ticket. When marked by the date, it indicates the date the offender appeared in court and is in effect a summons.

The objective of the new ticket system is to remove the necessity of police serving summonses directly to offenders when traffic tags are ignored.

Section 6 of the act says: "Upon completing a traffic ticket, and affixing his signature thereto, the police officer shall deliver the traffic ticket summons to the person charged with an offence, return and deliver the traffic ticket summons in accordance herewith shall be deemed to be personal service of the summons upon the person charged with an offence in the traffic ticket summons."
